Dear Sir Edmar,

Good day!

Please accept this letter as notice that I will be resigning from my position as Area Sales Representative effective today.

I know that it is a very hard decision in my life but due to personal reason that's why I am leaving. I am very thankful for the unique learning experience both professional and personal development that you have provided me even in the short period of time I have in the company. It has been a pleasure and honor to working with the company and sincerely grateful for all the support I received during my stint. Again, from the bottom of my heart, thank you and I will miss you all.

If I can do anything to help during this period of transition, please let me know.

Kind regards,
